HUMAN RESOURCE DEVELOPMENT

The institute recruits faculty members who are both active and vibrant, as well as known, experts at the senior level, to mentor and guide the young students and scientists. Faculty members are groomed through a variety of FDPs offered by the College, as well as through the organizing of Conferences, Seminars, and Lecture Series. Faculty members are granted leave and provided financial support to attend similar activities outside the institute, in India. Appreciable fee concession is provided to faculties, employees & JRFs/SRFs/Research Associates to encourage them to pursue PhD programs and respective research center.

RESEARCH

SSTian Research and Consultancy Cell
(SSTRACC)

SSTRACC

SSTian Research and Consultancy Cell (SSTRACC) of SST College established in 2019 coordinates the institution's research activities and makes efforts to foster a supportive research culture on campus. The Cell monitors, helps with, and assesses the research operations. It offers a forum for facilitating discussions, disseminating research findings, and keeping up with the most recent advancements in the research community.

Vision

The College has played a significant role in promoting research and consulting through its dedicated faculty members in the fields of science, the arts, and business. At the national and international levels, the college faculty members have published works with high citation counts and impact factors. In order to strengthen research activities, the college encourages high-quality research in rapidly developing scientific fields and other areas of social importance. Our objective is to reach a higher level of competence comparable to that of world-class research institutes and elite universities.

Mission

To encourage and motivate faculty, research scholars, and students to publish articles in peer-reviewed journals, as well as to facilitate their active participation in conferences, seminars, workshops, and symposiums for the advancement of their knowledge and the continuation of quality research that contributes to the development and growth of the nation through socioeconomic and scientific outcomes.

Its objectives are :

- ❖ To review research and project proposals from the faculty and institution before submitting them sponsoring agencies

PRINCIPAL
S.S.T COLLEGE OF ARTS
& COMMERCE ULHASNAGAR-4

- ❖ It conducts regular evaluations of the institution's overall research activities and its development programmes.
- ❖ To assist in developing the proposals for holding seminars, workshops, and conferences
- ❖ Exchange of faculty to foster multidisciplinary research

SSTRACC organises an International National Conference and Nav-pravartan research convention every year to bring together all the scholars, mentors, students, and academicians to reflect on their research areas and to share their thoughts on the creation of new knowledge as part of its initiative to achieve excellence in research and to develop as a thought leadership centre.

The conference empowers students and faculty members at the institution to network.

- ❖ Determine research frameworks, survey them, and list the prevailing paradigms.
- ❖ Develop Effective research writing applications
- ❖ Learn about patents, intellectual property rights, and funding organisations and programmes.
- ❖ Provide an opportunity for the institution's students and teachers to present their research work for the year.
- ❖ Present a resource compendium on socially responsible research and bring forth significant researchable challenges.

Concerning the accomplishments of research centres, we participated in the Avishkar research convention hosted by Mumbai University, and two students were chosen for the final round. Out of the ten papers published in the previous academic year (2021-22). We encourage project-based learning, and 40 students attended the Avishkar research convention and the Nav-Pravartan research convention.

Authentication and Its Techniques

Rahul Rakesh Chauhan

M. Sc. IT (Part-1), SST College Arts And Commerce

Abstract

Authentication is a process of verifying whether the user is valid or not for the requested service is known as authentication. It is a process of granting a user access to an information system, most commonly used is user-name password. There are three many types of authentication techniques or types such as local storage and comparison, central storage and comparison, challenge and response, Kerberos, one-time password, certification based, biometric, smart cards. Each authentication mechanism functions differently and has their strengths and weakness. In this paper we review different types of authentication techniques, how they work and what methods they use to prevent from several attacks or malicious activities.

Keywords: Authentication, Types of Authentication, Working of Each techniques.

Introduction

In the context of computer security, it is whatever means is used to determine that a user, a source or data is 'authentic'-not false or copied; genuine; real. The most well-known authentication method is User ID and password. 'Authentication' is the process that gets you access to whatever system, data stream or application that you are requesting.

While a password may be sufficient to secure simple accounts like social media profiles or other online communities, the truth is that many of us store more sensitive information online.

Authentication is the process of establishing and confirming the identity of a client requesting services. It's composed of two parts: a public statement of identity (usually in the form of username) combined with a private response to a challenge (such as a password).

Patent Publication

Protection and management of Intellectual Property (IP) have become big problems for countries all over the world, especially since patents are seen as a sign of technological progress and R&D trends. Most countries in the world work on projects that help the economy and protect their intellectual property because they know that knowledge is the main source of wealth in the new world economy.

(57) Abstract :

Every day, a large number of people die in vehicle accidents around the world. Life is only guaranteed if the mistake is discovered on time, and the penalty is imposed to the scene. People all throughout the world are concerned about traffic accidents. All road accident injuries and deaths are caused by traffic on the road and accidents caused by a lack of or global road safety crisis. Road crashes are the second leading cause of death among teenagers. Every year, persons aged 13 to 40 die in traffic accidents as a result of reckless driving. Automatic speed tracker and notification systems must be built inside the motor vehicles. The use of automatic speed tracker using sensor and notification systems in Smartphones is the subject of this study. The first phase is the identification stage, in which a motor vehicle speed is detected, and the second phase is the notification stage, in which the speed is detected and detailed information is sent to the traffic control room and favorite contacts through ML Algorithms

(57) Abstract :
Approximately 10% of people's daily time is spent time between work and home. Furthermore, as people's living standards rise in today's society, their demands for a comfortable environment inside the home rise as well, necessitating the use of a reliable air conditioner to ensure home environment comfort. The compressor is frequently started and stopped in an air conditioning system to achieve the appropriate temperature. The ideal compressor speed of the air conditioner in the car, on the other hand, is determined by a variety of parameters such as the changing temperature and humidity of the surroundings throughout the day. As a result, an intelligent system based on I AI-based sensors that measures the user's temperature and humidity within the environment is offered. This sensor monitors the gas level in the compressor on a regular basis. When the gas level in the compressor falls below the normal range, it alerts the stakeholders. As a result, essential steps can be made to prevent the AC from shutting down.

(57) Abstract :
Spy app tracker is a tracking tool that parents use to keep track of their children's whereabouts and driving speeds, and as such, it is either a safety precaution or a tattletale, depending on your point of view. Technology has influenced Generation Z's habits and expectations in the same way that it has impacted the behaviours and expectations of their parents, who can monitor communications and manage how much time their children spend on apps or games with eric precision. Gen Z is now entering adulthood, and both its members and their parents are grappling with the ramifications of a world in which you can always know what your child is doing thanks to an app. As their children start college, some parents prefer to preserve this link. The software has the potential to escalate abusive conduct. Although it's rare, if the app is being misused, we have a responsibility to assist and prevent it. Using this app other than family members are also tracking the movement of the individuals. We can employ AI and IoT sensor systems to track and prohibit non-family members from gaining access. Members of the family should save their contact lists as both family and business contacts. If an outsider/business contact wants to track a member, the system should first give notification of acceptance to the individual being tracked, only then outsiders can track the movements with his/her permission.

SSTian Innovation and
Business incubation
Centre (SIBIC)

Institution has created an eco system for innovations including Incubation centre and other initiatives for creation and transfer of knowledge.

An eco system has been created in the institution to promote innovation, transfer of knowledge and entrepreneurship. As part of innovation, SSTian Innovation and Business incubation Center (SIBIC) has been set up in the year 2011-2012 for nurturing innovative ideas from the students. Initial amount has been sanctioned by Trust to establish SIBIC in the institution for 11 years starting from the academic year 2011-12. As part of this initiative, Ideation contests were conducted every year. The students participated in large number and showed enthusiasm towards innovation and its practice. The institute provided necessary facilities and financial support upto to carry out each of these projects. A Committee consisting of experts from diverse fields representing industry, banking and other allied areas are involved in the short listing of innovative ideas for pursuing further.

As part of choice based education system, the students are encouraged to take up co- curricular activities involving project based learning which culminate into creation of innovative knowledge helpful for the society. Students are encouraged to take up research projects as part of their semester V and Semester VI project work. Students are encouraged to take up and participate in code development activities such as Hackthons and Coding contests etc., which train the students towards innovation.

Faculty is encouraged to conduct research activities and make publications in the journals of repute for knowledge sharing. The institution has the practice of conducting various workshops and conferences periodically for creation and sharing of knowledge. They are also encouraged to contribute to national and international conferences conducted outside the institution as part of this initiative. Similarly some of the faculty members have published technical books as a part of initiative for knowledge creation and transfer. The faculty has been encouraged to take up Intellectual Property rights as an initiative towards innovation and knowledge sharing. The faculty delivers guest lectures and expert lectures to other institutions as part of knowledge sharing.

The club has organized many programs for students and faculty students in activities including formulation of business plans, sourcing of funds for projects and managing various dimensions of business such as purchase, production, inventory, accounting, marketing and quality control, designing and reporting. In collaboration with the Ecology “ Best out of Waste”, Program was conducted. Students collected waste materials , recycled and converted to T- Shirts and sold out in the campus.

Energy Swaraj Foundation organized a Boot Camp for 600 students and 40 faculty collaborating with SSTian SIBIC (SSTian Innovation and Entrepreneurship Development Cell). They gained hands on experience in various dimensions of designing a Solar System.

The Diwali sale, a long-standing tradition, gives visibility and recognition to our alumni entrepreneurs and other scholars.

E-RESOURCES

There has been a paradigm shift in the way information and knowledge are generated, stored, accessed, disseminated, and consumed around the world. The game changer in this is information and communication technology (ICT), which has propelled the growth of a large number of electronic resources around the world. Subscribing to electronic resources such as e-journals, e-books, bibliographic/full-text databases, online services, and web portals now consumes a significant portion of an organization's budget. The most appropriate strategy to be adopted and applied is the seamless aggregation and meticulous integration of diverse data streams encompassing both traditional and electronic information. Switching to the technology pedestal will provide the information systems with an exponential increase in the r-resource base, as well as the ability to reach out to a larger community on a 24x7 basis. Information systems could also investigate various resource base enhancement innovations such as the UGC Infonet, DELNET, N -LIST Consortium, and others, as well as several Open Source Digital Library technologies, in order to make the library more vibrant, resourceful, accessible, and visible.
