4K cigarette buds collected at Juhu

DEVAISHI BHAIJAL MUMBAI, FEB 10

Around 4000 cigarette buds were collected at Juhu beach on Sunday as part of a beach clean up activity carried out by Mission Green Mumbai (MGM) group. Surprisingly these buds were collected from an area of only 100 meters and within one hour long clean up drive. It was collected by a group of 100 students from SST College (Ulhasnagar) in association with MGM group.

However, seeing the high number of cigarette buds in the garbage, we want to urge Mumbaikars to avoid making their beach a dumping ground for cigarette buds from the garbage. To create awareness, several hundred college students joined us. It was shocking that we collected 4000 cigarette buds from an area of 100 meters' said Subhjit Mukherjee, founder of MGM.

"We collect garbage every weekend and hand it over to the Brihanmumbai Municipal Corporation (BMC) for proper management. Smoking is injurious to health and the buds mixed with water damage tourists' life too," Mukherjee added.

The clean up drive was undertaken by Mission Green Mumbai group.

He further said that the BMC has been helped with their initiative. The condition of the beaches

Butt out of beaches, other public spaces

This is the message our readers, a green crusader, wants to give people who smoke and randomly discard cigarette butts with little regard for the environment.

I took a bunch of school students all of 20 minutes to collect over 4000 cigarette butts from a small stretch of Juhu beach on Sunday morning. "Why are the authorities blind to the harm of cigarettes and garbage around the beach when smoking is public in an effort?" asks Subhjit Mukherjee of Mission Green Mumbai.

Students of SST College in Ulhasnagar, who were part of the drive, were shocked by the huge pile of discarded butts - enough to fill 2000 bottles - collected from the vicinity of the food stall cluster at Juhu.
