Cleanliness Drive

Report

"Cleanliness is next to godliness". Only a hygienic and clean society can bring health and wealth to the people living in it. Society cannot develop without maintaining cleanliness. A healthy society can spread positivity as well as happiness. Cleanliness is the only way to protect nature from getting degraded. For the same concerns, a Cleanliness Drive was organised by the Nature Club of S.S.T College Of Arts And Commerce on 4th January 2018. Area from the College till Venus Chowk was selected for the cleanliness drive. By covering themselves with masks and taking all the precautions, the students and the committee members cleaned the selected area sincerely.

Many local people also joined the drive at the time of cleaning. Participants were appreciated by the local people. The Principal, Dr J.C. Purswani Sir also appreciated the students for their work and their will to serve the society. The drive ended with a pledge taken by the members to keep the environment and society clean and safe.

Gardening Activity

Report

"Green is your life". Learning through gardening activity is known to be an educational strategy in which a garden is used as a teaching tool. To inculcate the habit in the students we conducted the activity in the campus at 11:00 am where students participated to learn to grow various plants like Tulsi sampling; flowers like Rose; Daisy etc.

After successfully conducting the activities many students start gardening at their home. The Principal, Dr J.C. Purswani Sir also appreciated the students for their work and it will generate good habits to be in nature all the time and give more to the society while growing various plants at home.

Tree Plantation Drive

Report

Roadside pollution in the urban areas can affect anyone at an adverse level, especially the people on pedestrian walkways. To reduce pollution and to encourage greenery, the Nature Club of SST College of Arts and Commerce arranged a tree plantation drive on 4th August 2017, spanning from the college to Venus Chowk at Ulhasnagar.

Few days before the plantation, a motivational speech was delivered by the Principal, Dr. Purswani sir. As a result, students brought the saplings to be planted and took the responsibility of its sustenance. Roadside areas as well as dividers were chosen for plantation. Pollution-tolerant plant saplings such as Caesalpinia, Peepal, Terminalia (Indian almond) and others such as Coconut and Mango saplings were arranged by the college management. Management also provided a few other plants such as Bougainvillea, White lily, etc. for the dividers. Teachers guided the students about the plantation methods.

At the end, principal sir appreciated the efforts of the members, students and the program was concluded.
